

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release
November 12, 2018

Contact: Upper Guadalupe River Authority
(830) 896-5445

Hill Country Master Gardeners Receive Recognition Award From UGRA

At their November 7th business meeting, the Hill Country Master Gardeners (HCMG) were presented with a certificate of appreciation from Upper Guadalupe River Authority (UGRA) Board President Bob Waller, Secretary Diane McMahon, and General Manager Ray Buck. The UGRA Board of Directors previously honored representatives of HCMG for their selfless service in assisting with the creation of the UGRA EduScape.

The UGRA EduScape is a water conservation educational landscape that wraps around the Guadalupe Basin Natural Resources Center at 125 Lehman Drive in Kerrville. Visitors can stroll along the quarter mile landscape path to view numerous examples of practices that conserve water and protect the Guadalupe River through stormwater management. The self-guided tour is enhanced by information on interpretive signs and water conservation tips to promote understanding of the landscape elements.

Picture by Pat Wolters, HCMG

UGRA Honors the Hill Country Master Gardeners (HCMG) for their contribution to the UGRA EduScape. L to R: HCMG President Jackie Skinner, UGRA General Manager Ray Buck, UGRA Board Director and Master Gardener Diane McMahon, UGRA Board President Bob Waller, Master Gardeners and EduScape design team members Pam Umstead, Melayne Arnold, and Debra Foley (Meg Scott-Johnson not pictured).

Let's Keep Our River Clean